Last Updated: Sep 11, 2026

Input Behavior:

- Walking into the dialogue trigger automatically starts the conversation
- Pressing the interact key (E on keyboard / dodge button on controller) advances dialogue one line at a time
- Pressing interact on the final line closes the dialogue
- Dialogue progression only occurs while a conversation is active

Dialogue Data:

Speaker Name

- Displays the current speaker's name

Dialogue Text

- Displays the current dialogue line

Portraits:

Left Portrait

- Character portrait remains displayed on the left side during the conversation

Right Portrait

- Character portrait remains displayed on the right side during the conversation
- Use the same left and right portrait assignments on each line to keep both characters in their positions when the speaker changes

Implementation Steps:

1. Place the Trigger:
Drag BP_DialogueTrigger into the level where the conversation should start.
2. Resize the Collider:
Select DialogueTriggerBox and scale it to cover the area where the player should trigger dialogue.
3. Add Dialogue Lines:
With BP_DialogueTrigger selected, go to the Details panel and find:

DialogueLines

Press + to add each line in conversation order.

For each line, fill in:

SpeakerName

The character currently speaking.

DialogueText

The line that appears in the dialogue box.

LeftPortrait

The character image shown on the left.

RightPortrait

The character image shown on the right.

Test In Game:

1. Press Play and walk into the trigger box.
2. Dialogue should appear automatically.
3. Confirm that the speaker name, dialogue text, and both portraits display correctly.
4. Press E once to move to the next line.
5. Confirm that both portraits stay on their assigned sides when the speaker changes.
6. Press E on the final line to close the dialogue.
7. Press E after the dialogue closes to confirm that dialogue does not progress while inactive.
8. Repeat using the dodge button on controller to confirm that advancing and closing work.
